A State Scorecard on Long-Term Services and Supports for Older Adults, People with Physical Disabilities, and Family Caregivers

This Scorecard finds that generally states with the highest level of performance have enacted public policies designed to:

- Improve access to services and choices in their delivery by directing state Medicaid programs to serve more people in need and offer alternatives to nursing homes that most consumers prefer.
- Establish a single point of system entry to help people find needed information and more easily access services.
- Improve support for family caregivers by offering legal protections as well as other services to address caregiver needs.
